

WSRHya Scholarship Program

Purpose and Guidelines:

To engage youth members and encourage them to become more active at both the local association level and national level. This program will offer youth members opportunities to contribute to the WSRHA Youth Association in addition to developing valuable life skills that will help them to be successful contributing member of society. The program will run from January 1 to through the year-end WSRHA managed horse show of each year. All youth are eligible to participate, but must be members of WSRHA. Separate awards will be given for the 13 and Under Youth age group and the 14-18 Youth age group.

In addition to the youth members interacting with one another and participating in the program, we want to provide life skills that will help them grow and mature. Stressing the importance of community service, being an active member in a group and learning to work with others, public speaking, communication skills and creativity are all important skills that can be further developed by participating in this program.

Youth members are awarded points, separate from their show points, which can be obtained by doing any combination of projects listed.

To be eligible for the year end participation award Members must complete:

- 5 projects from the Category-1 list
- 5 projects from the Category-2 list
- accumulate a total of 300 points
- volunteer at a minimum of 2 of the WSRHA managed Horse Shows.

Category 1: Rewards teamwork and volunteering

Category 2: Expresses creative and artistic ability

Category 3: Rewards good school work.

The youth are responsible for submitting a completed Activity Notebook to receive points for their efforts. An Activity Notebook can be printed off the WSRHA website and copies can be made and kept on hand by the individual youth. Also, Activity Notebooks can be downloaded from the NRHA website on the 'Youth' Tab.

Completed forms will be reviewed by a 3 adult member, volunteer panel and awarded points. Points will be kept by spreadsheet and posted at various times throughout the year, at horse shows, in the newsletter and on the WSRHA website.

Parents play a key role in the success of this program. Activities are submitted based on the honor system, and we ask the parents to be accountable for the youth's actions and activities. At the bottom of each form the parents are required to sign and verify the activities.

Funding for the 14-18 age group scholarship program will be funded by the Gracious sponsors. Youth fundraising events will provide for the 13 and Under Youth Division prizes. Each year the amounts will be reviewed and adjusted based on funds available in the youth organization and the WSRHA.

The awards will be awarded to high point youth in each age division at the WSRHA year end banquet. The following is a breakdown of awards to be given:

Activity 7 – A Picture Says a Thousand Words/Artwork4/1/16 11:51 PM

Points = 15 Points

Description:

Submit your artwork. The items must be created by you, but can be of anything that is related to livestock, agriculture, horses or reining. Limit to 10 submissions per month (10 photos, 10 drawings, 10 paintings etc).

Get a little closer, do not be shy. One of the biggest mistakes most beginning photographers do is shooting a subject so far away. Get up close and personal. Fill up as much of the camera frame, with the subject, as you can. You can always reshape, trim, and resize a good quality shot.

Focus your shot on only one subject. Determine what the main subject of the photo will be, and catch that image. Try and find the one key subject, person, or event that accurately portrays the feeling you are trying to capture.

In addition to getting one subject, in your photos, you will want to make the background of the photo as simple as possible. Busy, distracting backgrounds pull the attention away from the central theme of your photo. The subject of your photo is absolutely the most important element, and anything that detracts from the subject can ruin your shot.

Provide a caption, date of picture, information regarding technique and equipment used.

If providing an art project, describe what the project is, the type of art (painting, drawing, clay, etc.), inspiration.

Examples:

Show activities

Western Décor

Livestock or Horses

Submit Your Activity:

1. Describe what is happening in the picture or artwork.

2. What do you believe makes this picture/artwork so special?

3. Submit a picture of your art work

Parent Approval: _____ Date: _____

Activity 8 – Tell a Story

4/1/16 11:51 PM

Points = 15 Points (limited to 5 submissions/month)

Description:

Submit a story to be posted at horse shows or in the news letter. The story can be fictional or non-fiction and should be about horses.

1. Get Started by writing down a list of ideas, locations and characters
2. Write a Catchy first Paragraph
3. Create your Characters: Name, Age and a description of them
4. Choose a point of view:
 - First Person. The story is told from the view of "I." The narrator is either the protagonist (main character) and directly affected by unfolding events, or the narrator is a secondary character telling the story revolving around the protagonist. This is a good choice for beginning writers because it is the easiest to write.
 - Second Person. The story is told directly to "you", with the reader as a participant in the action.
 - Third Person. The story tells what "he", "she," or "it" does. The third-person narrator's perspective can be limited (telling the story from one character's viewpoint) or omniscient (where the narrator knows everything about all of the characters).
5. Choose a setting, where is the story taking place
6. Set the plot and write the story
 - Explosion or "Hook." A thrilling, gripping, stirring event or problem that grabs the reader's attention right away.
 - Conflict. A character versus the internal self or an external something or someone.
 - Complication. One or more problems that keep a character from their intended goal.
 - Transition. Image, symbol, dialogue that joins paragraphs and scenes together.
 - Flashback. Remembering something that happened before the short story takes place.
 - Climax. When the rising action of the story reaches the peak.
 - Falling Action. Releasing the action of the story after the climax.
 - Resolution. When the internal or external conflict is resolve.
